

Pat Young

4/20/68

I have an earlier memo on having met Miss Young at the office of her "favorite uncle", Dean Andrews. She then told me that she was employed in Washington at an agency the name of which is classified and she could not tell me. I took this to mean CIA.

On ~~Monday~~ Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, 4/16 and 17, I conducted four seminars at Walter Johnson High School, Bethesda, for gifted students of the east-coast area.

Lunch was served in the faculty room. Miss Young was there. I asked her in what capacity, believing that the presence of an economist from an agency so classified that it cannot be identified was inconsistent with this kind of scholarship and the purposes of the affair. (Also on the program were representatives of Negro groups, of whom Marion Berry did not appear). She said she was an "observer".

She was with a man with the same last name as mine but a total stranger to me. He displayed no interest in learning whether we were kin. He is Dr. Paul Weisberg, a psychiatrist or psychologist, at GWU, whose work, as I was later given to understand, is appraisal.
